

of the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion of the U.S. Public Health Service. The mission of the Task Force is to rigorously evaluate the effectiveness of clinical preventive services and to formulate recommendations for primary care clinicians regarding the appropriate content of periodic health examinations. The first Task Force concluded its work in 1989 with the publication of the Guide to Clinical Preventive Services (the Guide). A second Task Force, appointed in 1990, concluded its work with the release of the second edition of the Guide in December 1995.

Programmatic responsibility for the Task Force was transferred to AHCPR in 1995. The 1995 edition of the Guide, evaluating common screening tests, counseling interventions, immunizations and chemoprophylaxis, is available on the Internet (www.ahcpr.gov/clinic) and through the U.S. Government Printing Office, (202) 512-1800 (refer to stock # 017-001-00525-8).

Members of the third Task Force will be asked to serve up to 5 years. They will meet quarterly for 1 to 2 day meetings in the Washington, DC area. The Task Force will work closely with other organizations, including the American College of Preventive Medicine, American Academy of Family Physicians, American Academy of Pediatrics, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, American College of Physicians, American Nurses Association, and the Canadian Task Force on the Periodic Health Examination.

Nominations for Third U.S. Preventive Services Task Force

Members of the third Task Force will be selected on the basis of: (1) clinical expertise in the primary health care of children and/or adults; (2) experience in critical evaluation of research and evidence-based methods; (3) expertise in disease prevention and health promotion; (4) national leadership within their field of expertise; (5) ability to work collaboratively with peers; and, (6) no substantial conflicts of interest that would impair the scientific integrity of the work of the Task Force. Some Task Force members without primary health care clinical experience may be selected based on their expertise in methodologic issues such as medical decision making, clinical epidemiology, health economics, and behavioral interventions. AHCPR particularly encourages nominations of women, members of minority populations, and persons with disabilities. Interested individuals and organizations may nominate one or more qualified persons for membership on the Task Force. Nominations should include curricula vitae and should state that the nominee is willing to serve as a member of the Task Force. AHCPR will ask persons being considered for membership to provide detailed information concerning such matters as financial holdings, consultancies, and research grants or contracts, to permit evaluation of possibly significant conflicts of interest. It is anticipated that approximately 10-12 individuals will be invited to serve on the third Task Force.
